

How Much Can One Man Love You

Ty Herndon

I know my back can bend and bear the weight
And these two hands of mine, they never shake
At least not up till now So many heartbeats and it's never missed
But I'm not sure if I can handle this
I guess I'll find out
Oh, I guess I'll find out How much can one man love you?
How much can one man care?
How much can one man need you?
How much do I dare? I know my eyes can see for miles and miles
My legs can walk a good long while
That's never been in doubt I always keep my passions locked away
So what will happen now is hard to say
Once I let them out, oh I guess I'll find out How much can one man love you?
How much can one man care?
How much can one man need you?
How much do I dare? If I never let you go
Maybe then I'll know How much can one man love you?
How much can one man care?
How much can one man need you?
How much do I dare?

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>