The Separation

The Beautiful Mistake

Its is said that time would heal our every wound
But the healing comes from knowing
Knowing you're at peace
It's not from the hands on a clock on a wall
That move a little slower since you left us on thatTime stands soo still
In the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of whatLife has moved along and know that you're at peace
But the thoughts of your remain
And I know that you are happy
It's not from the weeks or the years that go by We miss you and we hope our lives and loss have made youTime stands soo still in the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of whatTime stands soo still
In the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of what[Faintly says]
Time
Time
Time
TimeTime stands soo still
In the wake of your passing
Soon I'll see you
With a choice of whatTime
Time
