Spirit Ride

A Telemetry

cracking ice surrounds my being can't exist anymore stopping not to pack a thing I race to explore traveling - through space and time to the unknown door wandering

my destination becomes a blur spirit ride - spirit ride spirit ride I'm taking a spirit ride now that it's over my strains gone away

now boiling water cooks my insides shocked I've found my fate banished figure now I lie so mesmerized in wait hollering - as the perpetrator takes his walk borrowing on a few more seconds off the clock buried deep inside resistance honor starts to grow convinced you might have missed out never to late to change your flow
