Broken

Secondhand Serenade

In the moonlight your face it glows
Like a thousand diamonds I suppose
And your hair flows like the ocean breeze
Not a million fights could make me hate you
You're invincible, yeah, it's true
Its in your eyes where I find peaceIs it broken? Can we work it out?
Lets light up the town, scream out loud
Is it broken? Can we work it out?
I can see in your eyes you're ready to break, don't look awaySo here we are now in a place where
The sun blends in with the ocean thin
So thin we can stand across from each other
Together we wonder if we will last these days
If I asked you to stay would you tell me that you would be mine?
Or think that we are broken?And time is all I ask for
Time, I just need one more day
And time, you've been crying too long
Time, and you're tears wrote this song, stayIn the moonlight your face it glowsIs it broken? Can we work it out?
Lets light up the town, scream out loud
Is it broken? Can we work it out?
I can see in your eyes you're ready to break, don't look away
