Permission

Andre Merritt

hey sugar, when you gonna try, try and make a move on me baby the night is still is young and we're both grown kick back now, you're in control and Imma let you do the damn thing and try to enjoy the things I I'll exploreyou gotta be strong, boy to take whatever you want theres nothin wrong with bein just a little aggressive you don't need my permission shorty you doin just fine its not like its a competition you and I gonna be highwe can start off real slow and like things as we go
you don't need my permission permission to touch me, me, me, yeah, me, me, mewonder if you, you got a crew what is goin on in my head I'm buzzin why you ain't made a move I done threw you plenty of hands but you ain't caught a single one yet do I have to spell it out for youyou gotta be strong, boy
to take whatever you want
you don't need my permission
permission to touch meyou don't need permission to kiss these lips, no I already done visited you a thousand times before what you waitin for all this could be yours ~baby your permissions been granted~you don't need my permission
you don't need my permission permission to touchyou don't need my permission

permission to touch me
