Re:Aktor

Eyes say more than thousand words Expose the soul that flows in me My inner warmth, my inner bleed My deep anxietyThis sight is where you can read My illogical personal achemyFalling in my stream I can't hide, you can feel what my heart can reveal Falling in your stream I grow in from without finding whom I have to seeLies sometimes tell what is true Inside of me, inside of you Shaping the colour expected to be Tone ambiguityThis sight is where we play Our logical wayFalling in my stream I can't hide, you can feel what my heart can reveal Falling in your stream I grow in from without finding whom I have to seeSo you take my beliefs that I burn inside, inside of me So you listen endless fights, in my eyes they break and blow away Seeing through... you can hear more than just... words I sayI can't hide, you can feel what my heart can reveal Falling in my stream You grow in from without finding whom You have to see
