

Eradicate

Fire & Flesh

You will fall, you WILL fall...
You will fall!! You will lose it all....
You will be left alone on a darkened road to just rot
To just rot away....!So, from here on out it's your all or nothing
Or like the tyrant suffer in defeat
Eradicate the chains that hold you down
But in our hearts always hold the key
Much more than blood to quench the thirst
Much more than life is undeserved
Who are they to write the final page of our destiny!?
No one writes that page but me!Build me an army of mortal souls ready for the fight
Build me a fortress of mighty hearts with victory in sight
Chase after the waves of death!
Carry your shield and then off with their heads!
Never will I will digress
Causing them scars with the scent of their fleshThey say what doesn't kill you makes you better and stronger in the end
So as the darkness of night approaches
Carry the weight of the world to the sand
And look back into the past and just ask
If you see a much more clear reflection in the mirrorERADICATE THESE CHAINS
STARE THE DEMON IN THE EYE AND SPIT IN HIS FACE!
There is a beast in YOU
Just take a look inside!Give it your all or nothing!
Or suffer in defeat....
Eradicate the chains that hold you down
But in our hearts always hold the key
Much more than blood to quench the thirst
Much more than life is undeserved
Who are they to write the final page of our destiny!?
No one writes that page but me!
