Dark Don't Hide It

Magnolia Electric Co.

Something held me down it made me make a promise
That I wouldnt tell if the truth forgets about us
Saying it now comes easily
After finding out how youve been using meAt least the dark dont hide it (x4)You only said you wanted friends
For long enough to get rid of them
You found the kind you knew would only kill you
So you surrounded yourself with themAt least the dark dont hide it (x4)Now the world was empty on the day when they made it
But heaven needed someplace to throw all the shit
Human hearts and pain should never be separate
They wouldnt tear themselves apart both trying to fitAt least the dark dont hide it (x4)Now death is gonna hold us up in the mirror
And say were so much alike we must be brothers
See I had a job to do but people like you
Been doing it for me to one anotherAt least I dont hide it (x4)
