

Who Can You Trust (Opening Main Title Theme)

Ivy Levan

The heart is a hunter
And hard as a stone
Cold blood in the chamber
Bullets humble
Into the night you will fall
Where there's no wrong or right
Rough justice for all
Love, is powering lust
When you're hungry for a hero
I'll feed you sweet lies, but
Who else can you trust?
The song of the siren
A moth to the flame
Do you live for the poison
then forget my name?
Into this web you will crawl
Ever ignoring, every warning cause you,
You want it all
Come and drink from my cup
The clock is striking zero
Bring me to boil, I'll give it up
This life is but diamonds in rough
You may find my smile deceitful
But after it all,
Who else can you trust?
When you're all alone
And there's no one 'round
I will call you up just to bring you down
If the price is right I will sell you out
But no one can touch the way that I touch you
When you're down in the dust
In the fight for good and evil
Bet on both sides, do what you must
This love, love is not meant for us
We're not like other people
You've got my number,
But who else can you trust?
Who else can you trust?
Who else can you trust?
Who else can you trust?
