Live Every Second

Tokio Hotel

From today all days are only half as long
Nothing left to love about
Yesterday is one million years ago
Day before already went down
Time's been replaced by a countdownThe sun is shining in the night
So here are words just think twice
Wake me up 'cause time is running out
Running out, running out, running outLive every second
Here and now, don't let go
Live every second
Here and now, don't let go
Before it's too late
Before it's too lateFrom today our life is just a TV show
You can even get a planet for free
The whole galaxy is chilling out
And time is all you can seeDon't look back, it's now, it's all that counts
Remember that before you forget
So here are words just think twice
Wake me up, the time is running out, running outLive every second
Here and now, don't let go
Live every second
Here and now, don't let goWake up
Wake up
Wake up
Stop it nowWake up
Wake up
Wake up
Wake up
Wake up
Wake upLive every second
Here and now, don't let go
Live every second
Here and now, don't let go
Before it's too late
Before it's too late
Wake up, stop it now
