

Dressed In White

King Diamond

[Incomprehensible]She's wearing white again
But colors always betray
Don't look into her eyes
There's an evil darkness insideYou might see her but she is not here
Leave her alone don't get too near
One touch and you'll disappear
What a scream you'll never hearShe carries a secret
And where she must go you'll never knowShe carries a secret
And where she must go you'll never knowSearching but not for a home
A restless soul all on its own
Always dressed in white
As she passes on through the nightShe carries a secret
And where she must go you'll never knowShe carries a secret
And where
