If The Moon Fell Down

Chase Coy

Every time I see your smile it makes my heart beat fast.
And though it's much too soon to tell I'm hoping this will last.
'Cause I just always wanna have you right here by my side.
The future's near, but never certain.
At least stay here for just tonight.
I must have done something right to deserve you in my life.
I must have done something right along the way.
I just can't get you off my mind, and why would I even try?
Even when I close my eyes, I dream about you all the time.
I just always wanna have you right here by my side.
The future's near, but never certain.
So please stay here for just tonight.
I must have done something right to deserve you in my life.
I must have done something right along the way.
Even if the moon fell down tonight
There'd be nothing to worry about at all because you make the whole world shine.
As long as you're here everything will be alright.
I must have done something right to deserve you in my life.
I must have done something right along the way.
