

Don't Think Twice

Zach Boucher

I think I think of you too much
Think I've regreted enough
Wonder how this would have turned out
If I was someone you can trust
Or If I really ever was
I dont even deserve your love
Im always too focused on me
And it seems I not focused on us
Never been one for apologies
Thought maybe this how it oughta be wonder how I can recover
I cover it
You took alot of me
This aint the person I want to be
I miss having purpose, your worth it
And certainly some sort of prodigy
Couldn't admit it, but lately just hatin me
Maybe Im aiming to be someone different
I just need somebody to listen
So that I can vent for a minute
I know that we've dug in a little too deep
And we're already reaching our limits
But lately your just coming back in my head
And you were the reason to leave behind alot of stress
Yeah, I just believe in you, more than you would ever guess
And If I could reset, I would go back to then and see, I would have said

(Chorus)

I want you for a lifetime
So If your gonna think twice baby
I dont want to know baby, I dont want to know
Everything is just right
But if your gonna think twice baby
I dont want to know baby, I dont want to know x2

(Verse 2)

Now they see my struggle at being alone
Stumbling, broken, and cold
Used to bein a nusience
Im used to feeling like a ghost
Now im overthinking 'bout everything

Better when we had been close
Need to figure out myself with no help from you
But all on my own
Im hoping you get it
See, these feelings for you are heavy
To tell this though, I aint ready
Even if your someone I envy
Theres plenty of energy left in me
Promise that im not the enemy
Couldn't even be the remedy
Even through all of our chemistry
Dont even know If this feeling I hold
Is something I gotta believe in
And see If I need it
But no
Im only following my road
And now that my heart is exposed
You used to be someone I know
But lately can say that I dont
I keep in the secrets of reasons I need you the most Because I dont want to continue alone
Whenever you went I would go
The negatives weren't even close
The truth is I want you to know
(Chorus)
