Mad Life

Dishwalla

sweet life I know how we give it all hold me up hold me up into the sun and watch me burn come undone
it can come apart when everything seems lost its insane how I try to find what to believe inits a mad life that we know won't give it up with the beauty all around its a mad life that we know still we give it allhold me up when I try to give and all I get is hurt its okay
that I feel faded today and lord I know that I can find some peace in this world in this worldits a mad life that we know still inside is beauty all around
will we give it all awaysweet life I know will it fade away
sweet life I know
can we give enough before we come undone before we come undone I'm waiting for the love to come around and save us from ourselvesits a mad life that we know can I see only beauty all around
still we give it allsee the pain and beauty all around see it try so hard to take me down hold me up into the sun and watch me burn and watch me heal how I Need someone to know that I feel faded today
