Dressed Sharply

An Horse

I have nothing new to tell you
Since the last time that I wrote,
But I know with certainty that
Your hands will get this note.
I don't need mirrors in the hallway
To remind me how I'm feeling today.
I don't want any lights in my house,
Turn them off put them down, throw them out.
I read, I read.
I read, I read.
A yellow shirt and a blue jacket.(X 2)
I learned for the first time today
A red flag means that I'll be okay.
You get up when I go to sleep but
That's just me and geography.
I read, I read.
I read, I read.
A yellow shirt and a blue jacket.
(X 3)
Dressed so sharply,
You know I will read
Every word that you send me
(X 5)
