

Land of the Upright Ones

Heaven Shall Burn

The dawn of a new age is near.
We put an end, to all betrayers and fear.
Out of angry skies we march.
And yet the downfall.
Any yet the righteous regime.No masters, no leaders, this is the end of treason
There's nothing they will carry on
Black hearted are their promises
Their leaving energy is paid by blood
There is nothing they will carry onThere's nothing they will carry on Nothing they will end upon
Nothing they will carry on
Nothing they will end uponNo masters, no leaders, this is the end of treason
There's nothing they will carry on
Black hearted are their promises
Their leaving energy is paid by bloodThere is nothing, I can learn to you
But whatever we will win, is more than slavery
This life, this golden future, it's in our hands
This world belongs to all of usNo masters, no leaders, this is the end of treason
There's nothing they will carry on
Black hearted are their promises
Their leaving energy is paid by bloodYou turned indivine
Those days are over, now
Villains will be brought to justice
Why don't you learn from my mistakesThis life, this future, we build a new foundation
A new era we bring, will comeThis life, this future, this is a new foundation
A new era we bring, will comeYour master, Your leader, this is the end of treason
There is nothing we will carry on
Put unaware in promises
Why don't you learn from my mistakes
