

For the Kids (feat. Susanne Sundfør)

M83

[Verse 1: Susanne Sundfør]

Where are you now?

Who do you go to for a shoulder to cry on?

I hope that some day you might turn around and come back home [Verse 2: Susanne Sundfør]

Where are you now?

When will I see your face again?

No matter how far apart we become you know that I'll still hear your song [Monologue: Zelly Meldal-Johnsen]

This is the day. This is our day, mom

If we believe it, it will happen

I am everywhere, you remember?

I'm in the water, on the mirror

The strange flower you saw in the forest

I'm the morning dust tickling your neck

I am the wind, mommy

And the wind is never sad...

He's brave, and soft, and furious at times

Soon I'll be strong enough to make you fly with me

And nothing will ever stop us then [Verse 3: Susanne Sundfør]

I don't know when I'll see you again

But I know that my love will last for eternity

I'll wait till the stars go dark for you to come back to me

Songwriters

JUSTIN MELDAL-JOHNSEN, ANTHONY GONZALEZ, MAI CHAPIRON Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>