

Other Side Of The World

Luther Vandross

I had known you for quite sometime
But the thought of love
Never crossed my mind
It seemed to be
On the other side of the world
To many times had I loved
And not cared at all about love
Just to have something to do
Then I saw a different you
And o-o-h, my
There's so many stories of love
All with the wonders of love
And so very sad I would be
'Cause none belonged to me
Could be it's all for the voice
So I finally let it rest
Sad but I thought that maybe
Love wasn't meant for me
There was love
There was love
There was love
On the other
Side of the world
So much love
So much love
So much love
On the other
Side of the world
I had known you for quite sometime
And the thought of love
Never crossed my mind
It seemed to be
On the other side of the world
So crazy how things
Can change your life
Now that love is you
Everything is right
And loneliness is the
Other side of the world

Ain't it crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world

So crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world

Ain't it crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world

So crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world

Ain't it crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world

So crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world

Of the world, of the world

Ain't it crazy how things

Can change your life

Now that love is you

Everything is right

And loneliness is the

Other side of the world
