

Another Time

Nxworries

Who brought out his latest to the ball
Who threw up a prayer and hit the mark
Of course it's out the way, get in the car
Of course you have to pay to play at allBut who do you think I look up to
Who you think I got my game from
Ooh, I bet you thought it was you
Who you think I got the game fromYeah, who brings out the bands and hits them all
Who takes all the chances when it falls
You came a long way from the a talk
Numbers still the same, but you don't answer to many calls
Now baby, who put all the plastic in your condom
Who spit all the powder on the floor
Get out the seat, you're two big for the two door
Sometimes you have to walk before you soarBut who do you think I look up to
Who you think I got my game from
Ooh, I bet you thought it was you
Who you think I got the game fromWord to my O.G.
The good lady told me we'll always survive
It's the reason that I'm still alive
Big grandaddy, grandpa for my father and now it's my season to shine
It's bigger than you, it's bigger than I
From the start was the words, I look at the rocks where I stand
Yeah, only as strong as the base that you're building on
All this today if you can't stake your claim in this great big world
It's nobodies fault but yoursBut who do you think I look up to
Who do you think I got my game from
Ooh, I bet you thought it was you
Who do you think I got the game from
