

The Wolves (Koven Remix)

Amy Steele

You need a killer instinct
That's what they say
Know what you want
Never hesitate
You'll be the prey if you hesitate
They say to never love a man
If he won't change
But I, I've made my choice
And it's too late to change my mind
I'm throwing my heart to the wolves
The wolves
There's danger in his eyes
And he's got me in his sight
I'm throwing my heart to the wolves
The wolves
And as the wolf cries to the moon
My soul is howling out for you
Follow me into the wilderness On a trip, take a breath
Take a tent(?), take me anywhere
And let's do it again
Let's be brave, I'm afraid
Of the risk we're about to take
Have a little faith
Just a little faith
I've made my choice
And it's too late to change my mind On a trip, take a breath
Take a tent, take me anywhere
And let's do it again
Let's be brave, I'm afraid
Of the risk we're about to take
Have a little faith
Just a little faith
I've made my choice
And it's too late to change my mind I'm throwing my heart to the wolves
The wolves
There's danger in his eyes
And he's got me in his sight
I'm throwing my heart to the wolves
The wolves

And as the wolf cries to the moon
My soul is howling out for you
Follow me into the wilderness We're getting deeper in the woods
It's getting darker under foot
Things can happen in the woods
And never knowing that they would
We're getting deeper in the woods
It's getting darker under foot
Caution's in the wind I'm throwing my heart to the wolves
The wolves
There's danger in his eyes
And he's got me in his sight
I'm throwing my heart to the wolves
The wolves
And as the wolf cries to the moon
My soul is howling out for you
Follow me into the wilderness (Any maybe the wolf was in love with the moon
And each month they cried out
For a love it would never touch)
