

Since Forever

Mercyful Fate

On this cold and windy Sunday
I'm sitting here alone...It's Autumn
I'm looking at a yellow picture
You have been gone foreverOh it's so very hard, growing old on your own, alone
I'm trying to remember...the days...
When we were youngSince forever, I still remember your ways
Since forever, I still rememberI have been reading your letter, over and over again
I can't believe you're gonna be here today
I can't believe...this is SundayHow nice of you to come, it's been so way too long
Let me get you another glass of wine
To keep our tongues in timeSince forever, I still remember your ways
Since forever, I still rememberSo many things have never been told
And now the both of us are way too oldSince forever, I still remember your ways
Since forever, I still rememberLike the light of the sun
You used to brightened my day
But darkness has taken your place
And I can no longer keep it awaySince forever, I still remember your ways
Since forever, I still rememberI ask you for one last time
No there won't be any wine
Just one more time
So you can put flowers on my grave
And then leave again...since forever
