

If I Could Write This Song Again

Matt Tutor

If I could write this song again
Iâ€™d be more true to how I feel
I would use blue colored words
So it would come across as real
As every thought Iâ€™ve ever had of you
The good ones and the bad
And Iâ€™d say you made me happy
I would say you made me sad
And I would tell you that I loved you
The best that I knew how
And I would say that Iâ€™m so sorry
Youâ€™re not here with me right now
I would detail in the verses
All the places that weâ€™ve been
Till its crystal clear
I miss you dear
If I could write this song again

If I could write this song again
It would take a whole new turn
And Iâ€™d be sure that it contained
A couple of lessons that I learned
That you canâ€™t ignore the tempo
When things begin too fast
You better take time to be tender
If you want the thing to last
And you should always trust your heart
When you donâ€™t know what to say
And if we could both do that
You know it might just be okay
Cause without our hearts weâ€™re fighting
A battle we canâ€™t win
And Iâ€™d be careful to share this with you
If I could write this song again

If I could write this song again
Itâ€™d be a love song to be sure
And I would sing it everyday
To the one I wrote it for

Weâ€™d smile as we danced
All across the kitchen tile
Iâ€™d never pass up on the chance
To let you sing for a while
And I would tell you that I love you
The best that I knew how
And I would say that Iâ€™m so glad
Youâ€™re right here with me right now
Iâ€™d explore in every chorus
What I wish I knew then
We had it good
You know I would
Yeah, we had it good
And you know I would
If I could write this song again
If I could write this song again
(If i could write this song)
Itâ€™d be a love song
(If I could write this song again)
You know I would
(If I could write this song)

Lyrics submitted by Madison Cope.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>