

You Don't Know Me

Evan And Jaron

I run these stories through my hairs
Of her coming home
And us just staring at each other
And we'll both know
Yeah we'll just know
And I won't care
That she took me through a maze
And left me there for days
Until she made
Her mind to go away
You'd think I'd know by now
You'd think I'd wash this down
Did you think I'd hurt her now
Just to heal my heart
You don't know me
You don't know me
You don't know me
And she don't owe me anything
I'd love to think that she was out to hurt me
And given the facts still maybe we
We could you know, we could try again
But she didn't mean the harm she put me through
And I could never go to her and trust
That she would ever care
You think I'd know by now
You think I'd wash this down
Did you think I'd hurt her now
Just to heal my heart
You don't know me
You don't know me
You don't know me
And she don't owe me anything
If time is all it takes than I've got plenty of that
Plenty of that, and I'm a better man
All the time it takes all the time it takes
You think I'd know by now
You think I'd wash this down
Did you think I'd hurt her now
Just to heal my heart

You think I'd know by now
You don't think I'd wash this down
Did you think I'd hurt her now
Just to heal my heart
You don't know me
You don't know me
You don't know me
She don't owe me anything

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>