Your Future

Timothy Bloom

Please don't tell me your past
Don't write it down
Erase what you had
The torture I can't read it all
Lets cross the lines and ignore the callsCause now here's your future
You future
Now here's your future
You futureThe present has its way of catching up
No more going back the way you came
The amount of love that I could measure
One mans trash is now my treasureCause now here's your future
You future
Now here's your future
You futureDon't look back you'll turn to stone
Right here with me is where you belong
I promise to never cheat you
Always stand here beside and protect you
Let all your defense down
You were searching for love and now you've foundCause now I'm your future
Your future
Now here's your future
Your Future
