Fallacy

Forsaken

This is war
This is the end of life
Now all who walk this earth will start to die
We will spend the rest of our lives fighting for authority
And now were approaching a new age of domination
This is war
You will not survive this
Revitalizing the impurities that have faltered over the years of mandkind will leave all of humanity petrified for the rest of eternity
Approaching a new age of domination is overpowering everyones faith turning their bodies into worthless slaves
Your lies are a purpose for us to kill your kind
You've been formalized into an unknown creation
They were designed to eradicate our lives and to wipeout all thoughts of ambition
We will spend the rest of our lives fighting for authority
All hope for redemption will be controlled by the leaders of the underworld
We control our own salvation
We will spend the rest of our lives fighting for authority
They can't tear us apart
