

Someone You Love

Tina Dico

You came to me in peace
I gave you what you wanted but no more than just enough
And know I'm on my knees
I've mercy on my soul
I am here to etern your love I'm reaching to refound Let anyone that trust in me be seen and be heard and Lord if I had known That love would be your punishment i would've kept my word is that what you do? For someone you love You'll do it all for someone you love
Someone you love
You'll do it right for someone you love You came to me out of nothing Your beauty almost killed me and the noasion left me cold
I saw only your reflection
As always in this life
I never saw the image whole and now the little I can give Is all my love into a song
I'll never stop to sing
You've shown the will to live
And someday we'll meet face to face
And I'll be born again
Yes you'll be born again For someone you love You'll be born again for someone you love
Someone you love
let yourself be born again for someone you love
Someone you love
let yourself be born again for someone you love
Someone you love
You'll do it all for someone you love
Someone you love
You'll be born again for someone you love
Someone you love
let yourself be born again for someone you love

Lyrics provided by <https://damnyrics.com/>