

Lost In Time (feat. Katt Nelson)

Small Town Heroes

Said you wanted me to stay but yet you ran away Cause' we're all addicted to something that takes the pain awayNow I'm sitting in my room Thinking how did it come to this and I'm only starting to realise I've been here since you leftIts been a thousand days, and I'm lost in time, still finding myself, and I don't know why, I'm getting sick of my own excuses, and a fear of life, but I know, I don't wanna be on my ownThey say something can come from nothing, but i know nothing can come from something good, you found me, my Fur Elise, a beautiful song i wish i wrote for you those times ago, when i had the chance to let you know that I'm making my own way home, i want you to knowIts been a thousand days, and I'm lost in time, still finding myself, and I don't know why,
I'm getting sick of my own excuses, and a fear of life, but I know, I don't wanna be on my ownIf time stood still would you look at me now?
(Do you feel the same way I do)
In my darkest days I'm the ghost of the hour (You saved my life now won't you be) strong be still be something I'm not If only time could stopIts been a thousand days, and I'm lost in time,
still finding myself, and i dont know why,
im getting sick of my own excuses, and a fear of life, don't wanna be, don't wanna be On my own
