

This Is a Fraud

First Signs Of Frost

I feel like a liar trapped inside myself with no intent yeah no intent to hide so lets take a second here and stop now breathe what would I do if the truth came out and if these walls could speak would I tear them down? This is my wake up call as I insist to take my own life in my hands It would take a lifetime to clear up the mess I've made in my head alone I have nothing to show tonight so lets take a minute here and think just think of the weight you carry on your shoulders yeah it's here to stay until you stand your ground Coz this is my wake up call
as I insist to take my own life in my hands But I'll find a way out Do you not have the foresight do you not have the foresight to see do you not have the foresight to see I'm a fraud
