Evy Jane

lyrics to OHSO:

thereâ€™s a woman out my window sheâ€™s been floating there for days into the bend of tracking lines she is the matron set ablaze though i feel it washing to me like the rise from greeny deeps she sees the struggle and the wane, ink in the wetness of my sleeps find my mind between my meanest askings cause i know just what is good for me knock out all my wisdom teeth to feed me you can tell me almost anything (2x) and the move is so violent as is the slouch which curves my back slouch which curves my obsessive and tricky

oh, my dark and my light stream-wading over the copper arms swaying after the line where is my heart in the offer when comes the rest of my mind

knock out all my wisdom teeth to feed me
