

The Ark

The Boggs

God, He called for rain
So I built an ark but no rain came
I was ashamed Man, he called for war
So I built a gun and I joined the corps
But I wasn't sure Love, she asked for more
But what I gave only made her poor
I wasn't sure The dove, she promised land
As she laid the branch right into my
There was no land What does it mean to be here?
Well, I know because I can and I will
Yes, I know because I can and I will What does it mean to be here?
Well, I know because I can and I will What does it mean to be here?
Well, I know because I can and I will
Yes, I know because I can and I will
