

About the Weather

Tom Rosenthal

Down the machines they don't have the answers
Oh I've been looking for those 'bad boys' since day one.
One blade of grass in a field of dancers
Oh I've searched for every reason and found none.Take me on an adventure
Let it be a golden one.
I don't know much about the weather
So meet me in the morning sun.Moments will come but not in patterns
Oh I've written it all down and not looked once.
Close your eyes and it might not happen.
Oh the mountains will be standing when we're done.Take me on an adventure
Let it be a golden one.
I don't know much about the weather
So meet me in the morning sunYour eyes are songs no one belongs to you.
Listen to the words but no words will ever doTake me on an adventure
Let it be a golden one.
I don't know much about the weather
So meet me in the morning sunTake me on an adventure
Let it be a golden one.
I don't know much about the weather
So meet me in the morning sun
