

Hating

Korn

My life is such a waste
Begging for something to work this time
But why can't I relate?
Feeling all I do is get what's mine
Holding on to faith
Never gave me nothing but despair
So why do I create just to be swallowed? I can't take
(We have a star)
I can't take
(We got a fantasy)
Come what may
(We are the stars)
I can't wait
(I'll take what's mine) Been hating all this time, before I crawled inside
Been hating all the faces of everything that I could find
Been hating all this time, too far to cross the line
Been hating all the faces of everything that I could find I cannot take this place
Burning up inside this space of mine
But why can't I replace
Feelings I find hard to really find?
I try but I can't taste
Memories, they always fuck with me
So why do I create just to be swallowed? I can't take
(We have a star)
I can't take
(We got a fantasy)
Come what may
(We are the stars)
I can't wait
(I'll take what's mine) Been hating all this time, before I crawled inside
Been hating all the faces of everything that I could find
Been hating all this time, too far to cross the line
Been hating all the faces of everything that I could find Find, find, find, find
Find, find, find
All my feelings have been eating all of me
Feed inside
Is there something wrong with me? I can't take
(We have a star)
I can't take

(We got a fantasy)

Come what may

(We are the stars)

I can't wait

(I'll take what's mine) Been hating all this time, before I crawled inside

Been hating all the faces of everything that I could find

Been hating all this time, too far to cross the line
