There's Room For Everyone

Dogwood

Hey mister, where are you going to come in from?
Is everyone just as scared?
Push me away, you don't know me or want to
Your separation from yourself makes you feel goodDon't run so fast, it doesn't last
It's not your fault you stay away
I've only myself to blame
I can't change those yesterday
So let's right the wrongs
Everyone belongsAll of the hatred and phobias are stemming
From gifts that you didn't earn
(You don't deserve)
Like little children defining the outcast
You insure they'll never return
How will you learn?Don't think so fast, they never ask
You stay inside they stay away
We've only ourselves to blame
For the mass-production of shame
And we right the wrongs
Everyone belongsThere is room for me and you
There is room for me and youWe've only myself to blame
We can't change those yesterday
So let's right the wrongs
Everyone belongs
