Lessons of Love

Lea Salonga

See the children play
Listen to the things they say
One-on-one to one anotherThey're just having fun
Finding out it can be done
They don't separate by coverOoh, young hearts
Facing to feel it so naturally
And the flower grows from the seed andPractice makes perfect and we tryin' enough
Then we're bound to be learning the lessons of love
'Cause we're never too old and never too young
To be teaching each other the lessons of loveGot some work to do
There's so much we can improve
Piece by piece we come together, yeahIn the neighborhood
I know we can make it good
But we've got to make it betterOh woh oh
Inside each of us has a melody
But we've got to find our harmonyPractice makes perfect if we try it enough
And we've got to remember the lessons of love
'Cause we're never too old and never too young
To be teaching each other the lessons of loveImagine how this world could be
If all of us would live in peace
Nothing good comes easily
Together starts with you and me, yeahOh yeah, ah
Lessons of lovePractice makes perfect and we tryin' enough
And we're bound to be learning the lessons of love
'Cause we're never too old and never too young
To be teaching each otherPractice makes perfect and we tryin' enough
And we've got to remember the lessons of love
'Cause we're never too old and never too young
To be teaching each other the lessons of lovePractice makes perfect, try it enough
(Oh, never too young, ah)
And we've got to be learning the lessons of love
(Lessons of love)
'Cause we're never too old and never too young
(Learning the lessons of love)
To be teaching each other the lessons of loveOh, we're never too young, never too old
To learn the lessons of love, oh yeah
Lessons of love
