Enough Love

Mandalay

Come

Like a baby to the breast

Every inch of you to test my skinYou

Deepen cracks and pour in more

Still standing at the door in tearsAnd I feel and do you feel

Enough love

Or do you feel, or do you feel

Enough love is too rareStill

Leaving me untied in hands

That you tied and locked away aliveHere

I can't stand another scene

Can't face another day in hereAnd I feel and do you feel

Enough love

Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rareDo I feel, do you feel

Enough love

Or do you feel, or do you feel

Enough love is too rareYou could weather me if I turned to stone

If I turned to stone something like a statue

You could keep me hidden in your garden

Then no-one need ever knowAnd I feel and do you feel

Enough love

Or do you feel, or do you feel Enough love is too rareDo I feel, do you feel

Enough love

Or do you feel, or do you feel

Enough love is too rare
