

Good Friends, Bad Habits

Owen

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I've good friends with bad habits what am I to do?
literary romantics
they fuck like Wilde
and indulge like Hemingway I've good friends with bad habits and a tenancy towards negligence just petty thieves and addicts that don't hurt anyone but they'll burn anyway Well sometimes, like every time a train passes, I get jealous of the long nights and blurred lights the red eyes
the bar fights where in the hell am I, and how did I get here? with one shoe, and which way to the nearest train?
Sometimes, like every time she breathes, I embrace my routine
I have good friends with bad habits what's a boy without a voice to do?
they fuck like Wilde
and they'll die like Hemingway
