Your Lies

Claude Kelly

And I've said enough by now
It's plain as day
Soon enough I'll need a change in the worst way
Not getting though to you is killing me
And soon enough I'll suffocate
From breathingYour lies need to stop
I keep running out of reasons to comfort and shelter youYeah I'm so on to you
Watch what you say
It's the shit you never think about I'm taking the wrong way
Just getting through to you
Takes all my strength
And soon enough I'll suffocate
Take you with meBut I'm still breathing
So don't put me on and lie again[chorus]Days have gone by
I'm dying inside
Is this, your idea of torture?
I'm asking you why with my heart barely beating,
You put me on and lie again?[chorus]
