

Servant in Heaven - King in Hell

Kreator

Some may struggle and some may fall
One only follows, another one leads
And while some only endure constant slavery
Others satisfy their never ending greedSome born to win, some born to lose
What fate may come, only time can tell
It's better to live in sin than nothing else to choose
Servant in heaven, king in hell, king in hellSome may give and some may take
One only suffers, others celebrate
And while some know that their time will never come
Others realize that it's never ever too lateSome see the dark, some see the light
What's in your view only time can tell
Better to taste the fire than swallowed by the night
Servant in heaven, king in hellSome are cast aside as anger blinds the mind
Baptized in flames to lead again
To see them take it all tearing of the heart
One thousand reasons for your hate, for your hateSome born to win, some born to lose
What fate may come, only time can tell
It's better to taste the fire than swallowed by the night
Servant in heaven, king in hell, king in hell, king in hell

Songwriters

Petrozza MilandPublished by

UNIVERSAL MUSIC-MGB SONGS Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>