Disintegrate

Painted Palms

Nothing ever seems to change here inside me
But I'm watching people changing around me
Said goodbye to you and left you behind me
Saw the sky open up before my eyesYeah you never even tried to see me
Love was never something you had to teach me
And when you dissolve then new worlds get made
Gotta let yourself just disintegrateMight be walking on a path to destruction
But the mess I make is something to build from Yeah I feel like I've got new words on my tongue
And I'll follow all my visions outside
