

One More Time

7Lions

How do you catch a falling star?
How do you fix a broken heart?
How can we go back to rewrite this from the start?
Back when our world glowed from just a spark?
Stuck inside this atmosphere
Watching my light just disappear
And all the things that I've forgotten while you were here
Now I remember them all so clear

(Chorus)

Just give me one more time,
I'll swim through the high tide,
I'll stand on the front lines,
I'll give it all just to see your face.
And tell you it's alright
To hold you for one night
Just give me one more time

Mr I don't need her
Now I think about her constantly though
If they made a machine that could register how cold my heart was off the meter
Now that that time is gone
I remember her favorite song
And the spot in the middle of her back she would laugh when I put my fingers on Until the end of everything
And I'm gone and buried
You the only one that ever loved like this
And baby I hope you hear me
You search and you gonna find
Deep down you know you mine
I'll fight to my very last breath
If that mean that I get just one more time

(Chorus)

Just give me one more time
I'll swim through the high tide
I'll stand on the front lines

I'll give it all just to see your face
And tell you it's alright
To hold you for one night
Just give me one more time

I'm still alive
I still feel you
So many words
I never told you
I'm still alive
I still feel you
So many words
I never told you
I'm still alive
I still feel you
So many words
I never told you
I'm still alive
I still feel you
So many words
I never told you

(Chorus) X2

Just give me one more time
I'll swim through the high tide
I'll stand on the front lines
I'll give it all just to see your face
And tell you it's alright
To hold you for one night
Just give me one more time
