I'm hiding inside me
Eye sees through my smile
As I shine for the eyes of anotherLet him inscribe what he admires
Let him inspire so many lies
I can provide any disguiseNight folds me beside you
I hide from your eyes
For I know this illusion is kinder
Than what you'll find inside
If I reveal my crimeMy deception, my invention, my obsession
You may despise what you may find
Hiding behind, all of the lies
Let me provide one more disguiseYou won't understand me
I can't let you try
Still I dream of the day you discover
I am the spyI, I, I
