You

Glasvegas

A door I've yet to open
A secret I need knowing
A rock I cherish instead of throwing
My river to this sea still flowing
You, you, you
My glow in the dark sea horse, never not glowing Through my sails this breeze is blowing
My child, my flame, forever growing
My scars from the past I admit I'm postponing for you
You, you, you
You, you, you
A lifelong debt that I don't mind owing
It was to you Bowie sang 'He rose in'
Never my loneliness can truly be alone
When future visions of true love is everyday showing
For you
You, you, you
You, you, you
You
You are mine

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/