

Tribes

NEULORE

Take your side
'cause tribes divide between robes and powers.
Brave or bleed, or the weak will die,
for the sake of pride Whisper sigh;
shade the light of the rising fight.
Cold-in brings voices battle cries;
So, robes you'll hides - you decide, you decide. Steal-away, feel the wave of the crimson stain.
Raise your worn-tattered flag you made from the robe you betrayed, you betrayed. You've always been fallin' behind.
