Glow In the Dark

David Garza

Yeah, I got big lips woman, kisses and flames
Don't bother me 'cause I'm in my own pain
Shirt so tight, skirt so high in the not so sweet bye and byeBut I glow in the dark and I won't sit still Till my teeth tear apart every scrap of your will
I don't got such a brave lionheart but I glow in the darkYeah, charms in her arms, nails scratch voodoo
Don't got no piercings, don't got no tattoo
Stubborn fact and a flighty lie, this obsession is hard to hideBut I glow in the dark and I won't sit still Till my teeth tear apart every scrap of your will
I don't got such a brave lionheart but I glow in the darkYeah, her serpentine ways, I'm seeing clear
She's practicing her smile in my rear view mirror
You see visions and renounce your sin
She listens, listens to the lunatic within'Cause the hours, they come and the hours, they go
We rise to the sun and the leaves start to grow
Take me back to the inside with the hours that slip and slideBut I glow in the dark and I won't sit still
Till my teeth tear apart every scrap of your will
I don't got such a brave lionheart but I glow in the darkAnd I won't sit still Till my teeth tear apart every scrap of your will
I don't got such a brave lionheart but I glow in the dark

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/