Play With the Fire

Triumph

I see the passion that burns in your eyes
And I feel the spirit inside of me rise
When it starts in me in the heart of me
There's a part of me burning tonightWhen she calls to you, no matter what you do
She'll be claiming you, taking you higher and higherPlay with the fire with a hunger that runs in your soul
Burning desire is taking you out of control
There's no fighting it, no denying it
Something inside of us driving us closer tonight
Into the fireTime marches on, but love never dies
The risks that we run will keep it alive
She will come again like a burning flame
And you can't stop the pain of desireWhen she calls to you, no matter what you do
She'll be claiming you, taking you higher and higherPlay with the fire with a hunger that runs in your soul
Burning desire is taking you out of control
There's no fighting it, no denying it
Something strong in is closer tonight
When it stops in you, in a part of you
[Incomprehensible] with the firePlay with the fire
Play with the fire
