

Well Worn Hand

Editors

Wake up, my love
Today I heard some bad news
Just what are we all supposed to do?
I won't let them get to you I don't wanna go out on my own anymore
I can't face the night like I used to before Take my well worn hand
Let's lock ourselves away
We'll never, ever step outside
We'll curl up in a ball and hide I don't wanna go out on my own anymore
I can't face the night like I used to before I don't wanna go out on my own anymore
I can't face the night like I used to before
I'm so sorry for the things that they've done
I'm so sorry about what we've all become
