

Love Is Love

People Corrupting People

We tell the kids
Itâ€™ll get better someday
But when exactly is someday?
It seems so far away
Why are they the ones who suffer?
Just for showing love for another
Fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers
Open your minds and weâ€™ll discover that

Young men and women who roam the halls
Of churches, schools and shopping malls
All lost with no hope, no direction
Sick stomachs from all the rejection and
Waking up each day feeling confused
Ignored by loved ones, used and abused
And each and every day, they pray that things would change
That these feelings would just go away

My family, my brethren
Itâ€™s time for us to change for them

Love is love, no matter what
Love is love is love!

If you have love, please just set it free
What is love if itâ€™s kept under lock and key?
Just a chastity belt, left feeling un-felt
Man, no one likes the hands of cards theyâ€™re dealt.
And some might have things better than others
And some might have to hide their lovers
But most will end up dead and alone
Because when love hit you up, you hung up the phone

Weâ€™re all in this together
Itâ€™s up to us to make things better

Love is love, no matter what
Love is love is love!

We tell the kids

Itâ€™ll get better someday
But theyâ€™re killing themselves today!
Theyâ€™d rather take a bottle of pills
Then take the hate this world instills
Well I wouldnâ€™t blame them if I were you
If the world hated me, Iâ€™d leave it too
Break down these moral walls
Because who can say they really know it all
Love and hate are just four letters
It all matters how you put them together
Love is love, no matter what
Love is love is love!
