Psyche

Dawn Upshaw

I'm looking for you in the woods tonight I'm looking, looking for you with my flashlight I'm searching from in the high or down the ocean And I pace myself in reason Gain the wolf, gain the wolf Conjure me as a child Slipping down a wet side Stretch up, I cannot reach him Jumping up they drag him from the water I watch them march him into life I watch them take him from the pale Into the sky for your eagle eye The sun seeds a sickle and a scythe Ridicule they won't allow Quench abuse and let love flower Rip the cage out of your chest Let the chaos fool the rest Show without showing What you know without knowing Twigs snap, I catch no canoe only you and me Alone on the old tea hope sea Dissolving who we are Call out for yesterday's destiny gone We're on a foreign shore It was the mark of falling I was the car still running And when you call I'll be your shield for life And if you feel it you will fly The sun set a bigger me And I was set to fall in As I was set to fall in

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/