Woke From Dreaming

The Delgados

Woke from dreaming but it took convincing
I was shaking screaming, I was still alive
And you were picking strangers by the side of roadways
Little, little let the danger unfoldYou can do what you do
If you think you'll take it
You can do what you do
If you are that way inclinedSuffer with silk as the pressure's tighter
You have skin pale as milk with the pressure on My heart is getting heavy and my hands are weak now
Hatred lifting and I'll start to weep nowYou can do what you do
If you think you'll take it
You can do what you do
If you are that way inclinedJust for a moment can we take a little time
Just stop for a moment can we make this moment mine
I've tried to let go but I've never had much to say
Take a day, take them all nowJust for a moment can we take a little time
Just stop for a moment can we look inside this mind
We try to control but we never quite know what's there
We will kill if we need toJust for a moment can we take a little time
Just stop for a moment can we make this moment mine
I've tried to let go but I've never had much to say
Take a day, take them all now
