Trapped In Space & Time

Priestess

I sit alone in a field
It's hard to filter the things you feel
I let this go with no eyes
I'm trapped in space and I'm trapped in timeEveryday, everyday that you're gone
Everyday that you're goneI dragged myself to the street
There's no escaping my own defeat
My parents are an unknown
I'm in my house but I can't find homeEveryday, everyday that you're gone
Everyday that you're gone
Five long years
I shut you out, all of these tears falling
Five long years
To end this drought, now I can hear you callingWhat I can't have I can dream
But there's a tear across every seam
All that was silver is chrome
All that was spirit is turned to stoneEveryday, everyday that you're gone
Everyday that you're gone
Five long years
I shut you out, all of these tears falling
Five long years
To end this drought, now I can hear you callingSomeone led me from the light
I'll regret it all my life
Someone led me from the light
I'll regret it all my lifeI cut you out of the deal
I never thought it would be this real
I'm lost inside this design
I'm trapped in space and I'm trapped in timeEveryday, everyday that you're gone
Everyday that you're gone
Everyday you're gone
Everyday you're gone
Everyday that you're gone
